EIGHT CHILDREN ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

SCENE CHANGES TO POLO FIELD FOR GAME TWO

Pennock And Schang For Yanks Oppose McQuillan And Snyder For Giants In Second World's Series Set-to In New York.

New York, Oct. 11.—Conducted on a basis of "left hands," the second game of the world's series between the Giants and Yankees, otherwise the "hunkers and the nothinkers," will be shifted to the Polo grounds this afternoon.

The day dawned dark and threatening with a light mist hanging over Cogan's Bluff and a threat of rain in the air. Cloudy to partly cloudy, is the official forecast but it failed to do justice to the early situation. The morning was as dark as a colored man's arm pit.

Because of this some were inclined to believe that Miller Huggins would veto for Sam Jones over Pennock, the former being a fast curve-ball pitcher and the latter a gentleman with no more speed than the average steamroller. McGraw, it was thought, will abide by Nehf, although he has anyone of three men he may deem suitable to the occasion. These latter include Hugh McQuillan, Jack Scott and Jack Bentley, named in the order of their possible appearance, if any.

Lineup. Yankees—Witt, cf; Dugan, 3b; Ruth, rf; R. Meusel, lf; Pipp, 1b; Ward, pb; Schang, c; Scott, ss; Pennock, p.

Giants—Bancroft, ss; Groh, 3b; Frisch, 2b; Young, rf; E. Meusel, lf; Cunningham, cf; Kelly, 1b; Snyder, c; McQuillan, p.

Umpires. O'Day at the plate; Nallin at first; Hart at second; Evans at third.

First Inning. Witt was out. Frisch to Kelly. Dugan up. Dugan walked. Ruth up. Ruth walked. Dugan going to second. The crowd booed McQuillan for walking. Ruth. Meusel up. Ruth and Meusel on a double play. Bancroft to Frisch to Kelly. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS, ONE ON BASE.

Manager McGraw warned up both McQuillan and Bentley and after a few minutes put McQuillan on the mound.

Giants. Bancroft up. He's out. Scott to Pipp. Groh is up. out. Pennock to Pipp. Frisch up. Frisch out. Ward to Pipp. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Second Inning. Yankees—Pipp up. Pipp out. Groh to Kelly. The ball was so hard hit that Groh fell down fielding it. Ward up. Ward attempted to bunt and then hit a home run in the left field stands for the first score of the game. Schang up. Schang out on a foul fly to Snyder. Scott out on a fly to Meusel. ONE RUN, ONE HIT, NO ERRORS.

Giants. Young up. Young out on a pop fly to Dugan. E. Meusel up. Meusel hit a home run into the left field stand. It was almost a duplicate of Ward's. Cunningham up. Cunningham out on a fly to Ruth. Kelly up. Kelly singled over second. Snyder up. Snyder out on a pop fly to Ward. NE RUN, TWO HITS, TWO ERRORS.

Third Inning. Yankees—Pennock up. Pennock is out. Frisch to Kelly. Witt up. Witt out. Frisch to Kelly. Dugan up. Dugan out on a long fly to E. Meusel. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Giants. McQuillan up. McQuillan out. Dugan to Pipp. Dugan made a sensational one-hand pickup and threw. Bancroft up. Bancroft out on a fly to Meusel who made a nice running catch. Groh up. Groh walked. Frisch up. Frisch singled over second. Young out on a fly to Ruth. NO RUNS, NO HITS, NO ERRORS.

Fourth Inning. Yankees—Ruth up. Ruth hit a home run over the right field stand. R. Meusel up. Meusel fouled. That was the first strike-out to right. Ward up. Pipp singled to right. Ward out. Meusel out on a fly to Kelly. Pipp holding first. Schang up. Schang out to first. "The talking" third Young was given an error on the close to line of the ball. Scott up. Pipp out. Schang's single over short. Schang taking second. McQuillan was taken out of the box and Bentley was sent to replace him. Pennock up. Pennock is hit by a pitched ball in the rear of the back and charged straight to the ground, while his team mates clustered about him. He was

FIRST CLASS BOY SCOUT COUNCIL IS FORMED IN SALEM

Close Second Class Council And Form New Body At Meeting.

NAME CHAMBERLAIN SCOUT EXECUTIVE

Greiner Re-elected President; Financial Campaign Will Continue This Week.

A luncheon given by H. A. Greiner, president of the council, at the Elk's home, Wednesday, to representatives of the town in northern Columbiana county, marked the close of the Second Class Council. Boy Scouts of America, that has existed in Salem for 14 months.

Under the direction of Regional Executive Jos. M. Butcher, reorganization into a First Class Council was immediately affected, including the eleven townships of northern Columbiana county with about 35,000 population.

Though the quiet financial campaign had not been entirely completed it had reached such a point that those interested felt justified in making application for a charter. Team workers are confident the full amount will be raised in a few days.

H. A. Greiner was elected president; Dr. H. K. Yaggi, senior vice president; and C. M. Gibb, Columbiana. Mr. Stonetaker, Leontia Kyes, Lodge Riddle, Lisbon, and M. Kyes, East Palestine, vice presidents.

A. E. Beardmore is the new treasurer and Scout Commissioner Lee R. Chamberlain was elected scout executive to begin his duties Nov. 1.

All officers of the former organization were formerly working as volunteers. However scouting in this district had reached such a degree that the need of a full time man was very keenly felt, so the appointment of an executive was found to be imperative.

Chamberlain will immediately begin preparations for scout leader training courses in the several towns assisting and building up troops now established, will organize new troops where needed and standardizing the activities of all troops in the district.

Under the new council the scouts of this district will be given advantages for advancement that have not been possible under the limited organization previously existing.

MISSIONARY TELLS OF KOREA'S NEEDS

Fine Program Heard A Missionary Society At Church.

The need of doctors, nurses, teachers and of money to carry on the work in the foreign field was pointed out by Miss Rehner, a returned missionary from Korea, who spoke at a meeting of the Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at the church. Miss Rehner told of her work there.

Other numbers on the program were:

Paper on "Alaska," Mrs. Howard Chamberlain; paper on "India," Mrs. Herman Wright; "The Protestant Churches in Europe," Miss Erma Hutcheson; vocal solo, Mrs. King, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Hundertmark; vocal duet, "Good Night Little Flowers," Eleanor and Mary Louise Lehner, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Joseph Lehner.

The three oldest members of the society, all over 80 years old, whose birthday anniversaries are in October, were at this meeting. They are: Mrs. Mary Gardner, Miss Lizzie Wilson and Mrs. Hiram Taylor. Mrs. Amanda Allen in a talk, paid a tribute to these women.

About 175 people were served at the tea which followed this meeting.

BANKS TO CLOSE

Observing Columbus Day the three Salem banks—the First National, Farmers National and Citizens Savings bank, will be closed all day Friday, Oct. 12. This is a legal holiday in Ohio.

Will She Get Her Divorce?

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stokes and Edgar T. Wallace.

The sensational divorce suit brought by W. E. D. Stokes, multi-millionaire New York sports man, against his pretty young wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, is on trial again in New York city. Mrs. Stokes was completely exonerated on the first trial. Although Stokes has named 17 different co-respondents, among them his own son, whose name he later withdrew, he is pressing the charge this time mainly on the allegation of intimacy with Edgar T. Wallace, a prominent New York traction official. All these photographs were made in court.

10 AND 8 WILL MEET TONIGHT

At 7 p. m. Thursday there will be a meeting of Columbiana Vulture of the Forty and Eight society of the American Legion, at Charles Carey ost rooms on Main st.

Large delegations from all parts in the county are expected and a class of candidates will be initiated. After the ceremonies the boys will enjoy a social period and "feed."

COUNTY VOTERS TO DECIDE 21 ISSUES AT FALL ELECTION

In Addition To Salem Issue 20 Others Are Up For Decision Of County Voters.

Twenty-one questions involving increased taxes, executive of the old pension amendment, a state issue, will be referred to the electors of Columbiana county at the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 6. John W. Moore, clerk of the board of deputy state supervisors of elections, announced Thursday.

Of these propositions, 15 provide for additional levies, all but one of which are for the relief of financially embarrassed school districts. The other five are for bond issues for new schools, street improvements and a new waterworks. Of the bond issues only one is county-wide, that being a $100,000 proposal for a new county jail.

School districts seeking increased millage are: Cities, East Liverpool, Westville and East Palestine; townships, Center, Elkrun, Fairfield, Bayard, Special, Hanover, Madison No. 2, special; Unity Nos. 1, 4 and 7, special; Wayne, Washington and Middleton.

In addition to Salem's $300,000 water bond issue there are the following improvements sought:

East Liverpool also seeks an additional levy for municipal purposes.

Columbiana county village seeks the consensus of opinion on a $40,000 bond issue for a new school, while the Goshen rural district, part of which lies in Mahoning county, will vote on a $65,000 issue for a centralized school. New Waterford has a bond issue for $29,000.

TARIFF HAS SAVED AGRICULTURE FROM RUIN ADAMS CLAIMS

Chairman Of Republican National Committee Makes Reply To Dems.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF HAS SAVED COUNTRY Hard Times Prevented By Republican Measure He Declares.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The Republican protective tariff has brought prosperity to American industry, saved agriculture from ruin and prevented an epidemic of "hard times," John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee, declared today in replying to Democratic attacks upon the law.

Adams denied the tariff had built a "chinese wall" around the United States, bringing distress to mid-western farmers. On the contrary, he declared, the law had saved the farmers from a nationwide panic, maintained a fair level of prices in most commodities and given relief to the whole agriculture class.

"World competition has never been so keen as it is today," Adams stated. "The only safeguard against this menace to American farmers is protection in the form of tariff duties."

The Republican party provided the safeguard by enactment of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law. There is no doubt that our industries will prosper and the nation in the midst of hard times were it not for the protective tariff."

Adams cited the industrial and commercial failure rampant in European nations, unprotected by tariffs, as a proof that "foods of imports" can destroy the buying power of any nation.

American Farmer Fortunate

"Were the American farmer under-exposed to the law of supply and demand in international trade, he would be compelled to sell his wheat from 12 to 20 cents per bushel cheaper than at present," the Republican added. "He would be compelled to compete with the cheap foreign wheat countries, American wheat would be beaten down to the level of foreign values and (Continued on fifth page.)"

WALTON SUBMITS ANTI-KLAN BILL TO LEGISLATURE

Invisible Government Must Fail Or State Will Not Last He Declares.

SOLONS WILL TRY TO IMPEACH WALTON

Hands In Law He Recommends Legislature Pass So War May End.

Oklahoma City, Oct. 11.—Martial law which has covered Oklahoma since Sept. 15, was lifted today by Gov. J. C. Walton at a meeting of the joint assembly of the legislature while being held.

State Capitol, Oklahoma City, Oct. 11.—Invisible government must fail, else the state of Oklahoma, will be subjected to "indefinite turmoil and anarchy, the final results of which are bound to be disastrous," Gov. J. C. "Iron Jack" Walton told the special session of Oklahoma's legislature when it assembled here today.

He renewed his charge against the Ku Klux Klan, with a demand that Oklahoma "forever erase from her midst the hooded gathering" which he blames for many outrages, resulting in military law and virtual rebellion of civil authorities a week ago.

The text of governor's message follows:

"Gentlemen: Oct. 6, 1923, I issued a proclamation convening the members of the ninth Oklahoma legislature into extraordinary session and you are now here in response to that call.

"Reason for calling you together are well known both to the members of this body and the people of this state. They grow out of the conflict between the people and the invisible empire. This conflict must now be brought to a close with a complete victory for the visible government of Oklahoma will face indefinite turmoil and strife, the final results of which are bound to be disastrous.

Klan Undermining State

"This a powerful and most demoralizing 'super government' is undermining the very cornerstone and foundation of our government and is sapping the life blood of our citizenship. It must either be killed or the government itself must finally give way to anarchy and revolution. There is no alternative nor middle ground.

"That these conditions may be immediately terminated and that the people may be protected forever in their person, property and fundamental liberty, I recommend and urge that you immediately enact into a law the bill drawn and submitted herewith which seems to be complete and adequate to meet every contingency. This law provided not only for unmasked citizens but compels every citizen to publish a list of their members as well. The law which you may pass must not be a makeshift, merely an expediency measure only, but it must be in truth, fact and in law, one that has teeth that will meet the alarming situation.

"I urge you to do your duty."

Oklahoma's legislature was here to impeach Gov. J. C. Walton, who less than ten months ago took his oath of office among them before tens of thousands of spectators in the open air at the "world's greatest barbecue."

The galleries and rotundas were crowded with spectators as they were ten months ago when the "common folks bee-down" was staged as part of the governor's "inaugural ball."

The legislature came at the governor's own invitation—not an invitation for impeachment—but to enact anti-Ku Klux Klan legislation after an election which overwhelmingly supported an amendment which would allow the assembly to call itself in session.

Session was six days earlier than that which the legislature issued a call for.

Mrs. Elizabeth Stittler has accepted a position at the E. L. Cavitt confectionery store.

Four Children Of One Family Die As "Cleveland" Hits Wagon.

TRAIN HURLS BUS GREAT DISTANCE

Flyer Plows Through Wreckage Maiming Many Children.

Akron, Oct. 11.—Eight children were killed and others injured when a northbound Pennsylvania flyer, "The Cleveland" hit a horse-drawn school wagon at Rootstown near here at 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The dead are: Julia Walcott, 13; Ella Stanche, 14; Mildred, Harold and Verna Shaw, aged 11, 10 and 8 respectively; Thelma Benchoff, 9; Richard Silvart, 8; Margaret Kuntz, 12.

The injured: Lawrence Shaw, 8, may die; Stanley Benschaff, 6; Stephen Walcott, 11; Louis Cline, 42, driver of the wagon, condition critical.

The dead include four children of the Frank Benschaff family, three belonging to Frank Shaw, and a small girl member of the Kuntz family, all living north of the Rootstown station.

The engine hit the rear of the wagon just as it was passing off the crossing. L. A. Kline, driver, was seriously hurt and is in Ravenna hospital.

Joe Kwis, a Rootstown coal dealer was first on the scene after the accident, and reported that only two or three children in the wagon escaped. The vehicle was gathering up the pupils of Rootstown central school and was not completely filled.

The accident occurred at Lambert's crossing, a short distance from here. Calls were sent for doctors and nurses for miles around.

The engineer of the train saw the vehicle too late to more than jam on the brakes. A second later the crash came.

"The Cleveland" was due to arrive in Cleveland at 8:50 a. m. It is one of the fastest trains on the east.

The children, some instantly killed, some dying and others badly injured, were hurled in all directions while the locomotive plowed through the wreckage scattering it along the right of way for several hundred feet.

As soon as the train came to a stop members of the train crew and passengers began to pick up the victims.

While a score of passengers picked up the little victims, laying them on the maimed and battered bodies at the trackside, others rushed to the nearest farmhouse to send in telephone calls for help.

SALEM GIRL WILL ACCEPT NEW POST

Sebring, Oct. 11.—Miss C. E. Jordan, public health nurse here, has been transferred to Youngstown. Miss Jordan will report at Youngstown, Monday, Oct. 15.

Miss Mary Starr from Salem will take the place of Miss Jordan here. Miss Starr will make her headquarters at Salem, but will assume charge of all work here formerly done by Miss Jordan.

The new duties of Miss Jordan will take her to various sections of Mahoning county. While here her work was of a high order which won the admiration and friendship of parents and school children. Bi-weekly baby clinics under her supervision attracted wide interest among Sebring mothers. In her new field, Miss Jordan will work directly under the supervision of the Mahoning county health board headquarters of Youngstown.

Parent-Teachers Meet At Beechwood

A business session and social of those attending a meeting of the Beechwood Parent-teacher's association, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finerman, Wednesday night, Miss Ella Field, teacher of the school, announced that she is planning a Halloween program and social to be held at an early date.

The next meeting of the association will be held the second Wednesday in November at the home of Frank Yeungling on the Benton rd.

20 YEARS AGO

(Issue of Oct. 11, 1903.)

L. K. Deemer inaugurated the system of union delivery today in Salem, doing the delivery work for eight firms, grocers and meatmarkets. Four wagons are employed to start the system.

Announcement is made of the dissolution of the law firm of Taylor & Baker. Mr. Baker retires and will move to South Bend, Ind. about the middle of November. Mr. Taylor will continue the practice of law at his present office.

There have been a number of dwelling houses—some very handsome residences, built in Salem the last year, and many are in the course of construction.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jessup and children, Ellsworth ave., will leave Tuesday for Woodland Station, N. C., to visit relatives for several weeks.

Lorin B. Harris, a well known young attorney, has opened an office on Main st.

A special meeting of the M. A. Hanna Republican club will be held this evening.

Frank Harroff has resigned his position in the office of the Buckeye Engine company.

Allen Thomas, who was taken suddenly ill Friday night, has been improving rapidly, and was able to resume his work on the cab line today.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, East High st. are the parents of a 10-pound son born Sunday.

A. G. Hostetter, farmer, who lives west of Guilford, fell 35 feet from a ladder while picking apples and is in a serious condition from internal injuries.

In the nature of things this division causes grave dissatisfaction, which may end in war or may end in a peaceful revision of the treaty providing for federalism and a customs union for the entire Danube basin. Events are making clear the need for reconciliation and unimpeded trade among the states carved out of the old Austro-Hungarian empire.

Such a readjustment might bring purely Hungarian districts back to Hungary, because the Magyars consider trade secondary to the rescue of their separated brethren.

This outcome is considered desirable by some citizens of other nations who have studied Hungary since the war. It is the conclusion reached by Lieut.-Col. Charles A. Court-Repinington, the English journalist, after a personal examination of the situation in 1921. In his book, "After the War," Repington shows Hungary making a brave but losing fight for solvency. The late King Charles' clumsy efforts to regain the crown received no popular support. All classes, from the regent to the peasant, hoped that when the world grew a little saner the Trianon treaty might be amended by common consent without an appeal to arms. Meantime they were abiding by the treaty as best they could.

As one of the elder statesmen of a people with a political history for more than a thousand years, Count Apponyi will plead for the peaceful reconstruction of his dismembered country, not with the former boundaries, but to the extent that the Hungarian state shall govern all areas overwhelmingly Magyar in population. That would seem to be one of the essentials of a lasting peace in Europe, since Hungary, as the bridge between central Europe and the Balkans, occupies a key position in the geography and politics of that disorganized continent.

Lloyd George's Visit

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE perhaps has a more comprehensive knowledge of actual conditions in Europe than any other man in the world. He was on the ground through the war and the worst (we hope) of the aftermath, in a position to judge the succeeding situations with accuracy. He is a man of almost incredible mental adroitness and of a personality which makes his most determined political opponents like, admire and fear him. He maintained his political supremacy longer than any other of the great civilian chieftains of the war period. He had opposition enough in all conscience but, when it came to the point, for a long time no one could be found whom it did not seem absurd to pit against such a man. There must be a great deal in a man like that.

Lloyd George is out of office now and his party's strength has melted away for the time being. But as long as he lives and keeps his health he will be, as we say in this country, a figure to be reckoned with in British politics. He still has a great personal following and he has never shown himself a man to overlook a political opportunity. He thinks he is in this country for a rest but he probably is somewhat mistaken about that. There is great eagerness all over the United States to see Lloyd George and to hear what he thinks about the prospects in Europe and what in his opinion America might

THAT X-RAY MEAL

Perhaps when you have heard some of your friends say that they have had an X-ray meal, you have wondered just what it was.

Well, as it serves a very useful purpose now in so many ways, a word about it might be of use to you.

Ordinarily the X-ray operator wants an absolutely empty intestine and asks you to take a dose of castor oil at night, and after the oil has operated you go to his office in the morning without breakfast.

He mixes up the meal in a cup—Lactum—a metallic element, that goes through the intestine without change, and which will throw a shadow on his plate.

And now what happens?

Well, shortly after you have taken the meal, a photograph of your stomach is taken as it accommodates itself to the meal, and shows if all parts of the stomach are working on it or not. You see if one part is not working it might be due to a growth, or something tying it down to another part of the body.

Then in six hours he takes another plate, because there should not be any of the meal left in the stomach after six hours.

Then he watches it through different parts of the small intestine which as you know is a long tube 20 feet in length. Sometimes growths near the stomach will be interfering with the passage of the meal. Then near the other end of small intestine there may be a delay where the small intestine meets the large intestine. Then into the large intestine to appendix.

Some of the meal will go into appendix and out again. If any delay there the operator will note it.

Then on down the large intestine at right side of body across the body to left side a few inches below stomach, to right side, and then down the left side and out of the body.

Any delay in the passage of the barium meal in the large intestine may mean a kick there, but is more frequently due to just laziness of the intestine itself.

As you know material in the large bowel is ready to be thrown out of the body, and if it is delayed in any way you can readily see how it will effect our whole system.

You will feel lazy and indifferent without much interest in life. So if your doctor suggests that you have an X-ray meal you would do well to follow his advice. It is harmless, painless and not very expensive. Your future health, in fact your life's happiness, may depend upon the findings.

Backbone

It has often been said that "the little red school house is the backbone of the republic." So it is.

And so is a healthy Savings Account the backbone of the Home.

Both are great educators.

Both teach Thrift, Wisdom, Independence and Good Citizenship—the Cornerstones of the nation.

Doubtless, you learned much in "the little red school house." Let us add to this by teaching you the real value of a "healthy" Savings Account.

SCIENCE IN INDUSTRIAL ERA

Utilitarianism, It Seems, Must Ultimately Kill the Pure Desire for Knowledge.

Wireless is of great practical importance. It facilitates slaughter in war, the dissemination of journalistic falsehood in time of peace, and the broadcasting of trivialities to relieve the tedium of evening hours not devoted to success. But the men who made it possible—Faraday, Maxwell and Hertz—were none of them the least interested in furthering this remarkable enrichment of human life; they were men solely interested in trying to understand physical processes, and it can hardly be said that the existence of industrialism helped them even indirectly. The modern study of the structure of the atom may have a profound effect upon industrial processes, but those who are engaged upon it are very little interested in this possible future effect of their work. It seems likely that the utilitarianism of commercial industry must ultimately kill the pure desire for knowledge just as it kills the very analogous artistic impulse. In America, where the more utilitarian aspects of science are keenly appreciated, no great advance in pure theory has been made. None of the fundamental discoveries upon which practical applications depend have been made in America. It seems probable that, as the point of view appropriate to commercial industry spreads, utilitarianism will make such fundamental discoveries more and more rare, until at last those who love knowledge for its own sake come to be classified in youth as "morons" and kept in institutions for harmless lunatics.—The Dial.

SIAM'S KING VISITS TEMPLES

He Spends Two Weeks Each Year Worshipping at the Buddhist Shrines of Bangkok.

Each year when the rainy season is over, the king of Siam spends about two weeks making his customary round of visits to the different Buddhist temples of Bangkok. On these occasions the king goes in a boat, manned by 60 rowers on each side, each clad in a uniform of red, and riding a long oar. The royal boat is towed by the stern, raised on four pillars, and surmounted by a highly ornate, tower-like canopy. In front of the canopy the royal seat stands at attention, holding up large umbrellas, which look like golden cones. On landing at an appointed place, the king rides in a sedan-chair to the temple, when all along the way the people prostrate themselves on the ground, keeping silent as a mark of respect. For about half an hour the king occupies himself with the ceremony of worship in the temple, into which the public is not admitted. To the temples outside Bangkok the king dispatches deputies, his personal pilgrimage being confined to the temples of the city.

Marking Time.

A negro called upon an old friend who received him in a rocking chair and continued to rock himself to and fro in a most curious way. "Yo' ain't sick, is yo', Harrison?" asked the caller, anxiously. "No, I ain't sick, Mose," said Harrison. There was a moment's silence, during which the caller gazed wide-eyed at the rocking figure. "Den," continued Mose, "why does yo' rock yo'self dat way all de time?" Harrison explained: "Yo' know Bill Blott? Well, he sold me a silver watch cheap, an' if I stops moving like dis, dat watch don't go."—The Bits.

Fair Warning.

She was very beautiful and had called in answer to an advertisement for a typist. "Where were you employed last?" asked the head of the firm. "In a doll factory," replied the applicant. "And what were your duties there?" asked the next question. "Making eyes," she replied, with a smile. "Very well. You are engaged," she was informed, "but please don't demonstrate your capabilities when my wife is around."

Why Kick About It?

Clubbart heard that they were going to launch a newly completed liner and break the traditional bottle of champagne over its bow. He immediately declared war on this idea. Among others he cornered Hoffy and announced: "We must fight it." "Fight what?" "Christening this vessel with real champagne." Hoffy declined to become excited. "I don't see why you object," stated Hoffy calmly. "I thought you wanted all bottled goods smashed."—Boston Globe.

Puzzling a Candidate.

A parliamentary candidate in a rural district made the following remark in the course of his address: "There is no question in the world which I cannot answer with just 'Yes' or 'No'." An old farm laborer jumped up and said: "Please, maister, might I ask 'e a question?" "Certainly, my good fellow," said the candidate. "Well, then, maister," said the old farmhand, "what's the time?"—London Telegraph.

"Advertising Beat Me," Says Willis

Cincinnati, Oct. 11.—I know advertising is effective because it beat me in two political races in Ohio, said Senator Frank B. Willis, at a meeting of the National Posters' association. "The government should use more advertising. Advertising is education put up in capsule form. The west has grown into an empire because the people know how to advertise their wares. Pooches and billboards near every little western town proclaim the merits of that community as a place to reside, while an eastern town with better facilities will wait in solemn dignified pride for the traveler to dig out information."

Troop Four To Meet

All scouts of Troop 4 are asked to meet promptly at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Scoutmaster Harry Clay, East Sixth st.

Mrs. Ernest Bell has returned from a few days visit at Steubenville. The family will move to Steubenville in two weeks.

Mrs. H. S. Harris, of south of Salem, was in Alliance Thursday the guest of Mrs. John Moore.

NIP PLOT OF PEN FELONS TO ESCAPE

Trap Losteiner And Many Others Who Planned To Break Away.

Columbus, Oct. 11.—Details of a wholesale plot to escape from the Ohio penitentiary, engineered by seven desperate prisoners, were uncovered late Wednesday by Warden P. E. Thomas.

Among those implicated is "Jiggs" Losteiner, Cleveland bank robber and murderer, serving a life sentence.

Two of the members of the gang confessed and implicated their accomplices.

All seven are now in solitary confinement.

Following a tip from inside the walls the escape was being planned, guards were placed on their vigilance. The information was obtained from the warden's office.

Then the warden's office Saturday. Then the guards discovered that some prisoners had constructed a 30-foot ladder and had hidden it near the planing mill.

Prison authorities are at a loss to understand how the ladder was constructed. Information reaching them was that the men planned to escape over the walls near the planing mill Saturday afternoon.

Guards Are Inexperienced

Extra guards were stationed at this point, both inside and outside the walls, and were armed with shotguns. Their instructions were to shoot to kill. The attempted escape, however, did not materialize for the reason, guards believe, that the prisoners had knowledge that their plans were known.

Warden Thomas instituted an investigation with the result that two of the gang confessed.

In addition to Losteiner, those known to be in the lot are:

Walter Province, serving a sentence for robbing a bank at Steelton, near Columbus.

Mike Patrick, serving a minimum sentence of 25 years for a pay roll robbery in Cleveland.

Ananias Swords, serving a sentence of 15 to 25 years for robbing a soft drink place near Columbus.

Walter Van Dyke, serving a 40 to 50-year sentence for complicity in the holdups of the Hilltop bank, Columbus, Feb. 28, 1922, and the Steelton bank, Dec. 21, 1921.

Van Dyke is one of the men who confessed, according to Warden Thomas, to having helped make the ladder.

Four prisoners recently escaped over the north wall of the penitentiary, after climbing the wall, disarming a guard and clubbing him into insensibility with his own rifle. One was shot and killed near Columbus the next day but the others are still at large.

Because the board of control recently refused to grant guards at the prison an increase in pay, many of the older and experienced men are leaving. It has been necessary to fill their places with inexperienced men, Warden Thomas said.

POPULATION UP 2 IS MONTH'S RECORD

Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church reports for the month of September 13 births, all white, 19 are males and 9 females.

There were 17 deaths, 12 males and five females.

Four of the deaths were of persons under one year of age. Six were buried in Hope cemetery, five in Grandview and six out of the city.

There were five cases of communicable diseases reported during the month.

TARIFF THAT SAVED

great agriculture depression would result.

"Because the prices of some farm products have decreased, the farmer is told the tariff has not benefited him. Farmers, however, are aware that although the prices of home products have declined, the values of the same product in other nations have shown far greater decreases. At the same time the prices of numerous other products have been benefited directly by the tariff."

"The tariff," while it has not prevented some declines, has prevented farm prices as a whole from going to smash. If it had not been for the tariff, agriculture today would be on the verge of a nation-wide panic."

Adams also pointed to the condition of American industry, declaring "current industrial prosperity was due solely to the tariff."

"Never in history has our peace-time employment been as high nor have so many wage earners been employed at such good wages as at present," he added. "The tariff has brought tremendous industrial activity reflected in record-breaking volume of retail sales and in record-breaking savings deposits."

Famous Salem Wharf

Rebuilt for Dramatic Scenes of Picture, "Java Head."

The Old Derby Wharf at Salem, Mass., has been rebuilt. Demolished about 50 years ago, it was reconstructed for moving picture purposes. Scenes in "Java Head," George Melford's latest Paramount production, which is showing at the Royal theater tonight, required the docking of an old time sailing vessel at this wharf, so the only thing to do was to construct a new wharf. This is but one of the many colossal undertakings of a motion picture. Many lives have been accomplished in "Java Head," the featured roles of which are played by Leatrice Joy, Jacqueline Logan, and Arnold Roscoe, George Fawcett and Albert Roscoe.

SALEM WILL HAVE STAGE INSTITUTE

Through the efforts of the Salem Community Service, this city will have a dramatic institute in which all persons interested in dramatic art and literature will be asked to participate.

During Oct. 24, Mr. Juakin Nathan, a community service worker and dramatic specialist will come to the city for the purpose of conducting a three weeks' institute, for which each person will be charged a small admission. The course will consist of a special course of study in literature and the drama.

Rev. H. L. Miller has been named as chairman of the institute and he has as his assistants Mrs. E. E. Dyball, Miss Susan Denning, Rev. A. J. Moring and Miss Mary Holdebaum, chairman of various committees, who will help with the project.

The institute will open in the recently vacated Masonic rooms, corner Lundy and Main sts.

ELKS STAGE CLAM BAKE AND SHOW

Salem lodge No. 335, B. P. O. E., gave a clam bake for the ladies Wednesday evening at the home, McKinley ave., which proved to be a most successful and enjoyable event, with 53 couples in attendance.

The hall was very attractively decorated with orange and black tones and other decorations in keeping with the Halloween season.

During the dinner a vaudeville performance was put on by Reiff, Murray and Reiff of Cleveland, and the two solo dances by Miss Leona Watkins, of Cleveland, formerly of Salem, were much appreciated.

Dancing entertained for which the Harmony Seven orchestra played.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Alice L. Gerber and Mr. and Mrs. Joan Hinchman, of Lisbon.

TRADE COMMITTEE DID NOT HIRE VET

Representing himself as having been engaged by the Salem Booster week general committee, Frank McClellan, a wounded veteran, Wednesday night, at an entertainment at Broadway and Main st. The man had interviewed me merchant before making his announcement and the Booster week committee had nothing to do with the affair.

The committee emphasized the fact that all entertainments put on Booster week under the auspices of the committee are free.

Complete plans for the big doll carriage parade to be staged Saturday will be announced in Friday's News.

STOCKS

MARKET IS IRREGULAR

New York, Oct. 11.—Irregularity marked trading at the opening of the stock market today. Changes were fractional except in Sears Roebuck, which rose over one point to 78 1/2.

Steel stocks were steady. Bethlehem Steel rose 1/4 to 45 3/4 and Gulf States Steel 1/2 to 74. Ballwin rose 1/4 to 115 1/2.

Chandler lost 1/4 to 45 1/2 and Goodrich Tire 1/4 to 21. Producers and Refiners was weak, yielding 3/4 to 22 1/2 and Corden Oil 1/4 to 25 1/2. Inspiration Copper yielded 1/4 to 25 1/2. Sugar stocks opened fairly steady.

Bamboo Reinforces Concrete.

Bamboo, which has been chemically treated, is used as a reinforcement for concrete in Japan, according to the magazine Concrete. Henry C. Hitchcock, American consul at Nagasaki, states that the chemicals used in treating the bamboo are apparently known only to the few who have made use of them.

"Bamboo is occasionally used without chemicals to protect it from decay. In the construction of concrete ditches, small culverts and the like in districts where there is a great deal of sulphur in the soil and sulphur gas in the air," says the writer in Concrete. "This is done because it is believed that bamboo is not so quickly destroyed by the sulphur as ordinary reinforcing would be."

JUST FUN

HIS REASON

"I want to borrow a thousand dollars," he said to the bank cashier.

"Why, certainly, Mr. Smith," said the cashier, pleasantly. "Just sign this note and get two property owners to indorse it. You know some property owners, don't you?"

"Yeah, that's it; that's why I've gotta borrow some money."

Barber and Customer.

"Your hair wants cutting badly, sir," said a barber, insinuatingly, to a customer.

"No, it doesn't," replied the man in the chair; "it wants cutting nicely. You cut it badly last time."—London Tit-Bits.

In After Life.

Back in the old town he was asking questions about the friends of his youth.

"What has become of the girl we used to call peaches and cream?"

"She made an unfortunate marriage. Some refer to her as spunkkraut and vinegar now."

MENTAL CLOUDS

"Jones, the weather man, is said to be a little off."

"Yes; he's been a storm-center in the bureau and the disturbance has clouded his mind."

Friendly in Name Only.

Husband—Well, if that gossip about Mrs. Rush is true, she's worse than I thought she was. Where did you hear it?

Wife—I heard it yesterday at the meeting of the Friendly society.

Handwriting on the Wall.

Villager (at wireless concert in local hall)—That's a pretty tune. What is it—the chorus from "Faust"?

Companion—No, dear; according to that notice on the wall it's the "Refrain from Smoking."

Helping the Machine Guns.

Blanks—I have just read that Russia imported 264 motor cars last year.

Jinks—Great scott! Can't they kill 'em off fast enough over there with machine guns without resorting to the juggernauts?

One of Its Uses.

"This suit is worn out," declared the indignant customer.

"Well, you bought it to wear out, didn't you?" inquired the smart clothier.

MOTHER'S JOB.

"I've just heard you're going abroad for an extended trip. I suppose your mother will go with you as your chaperone."

"She'll do a little formal chaperoning on the side but scouting and press agenting are her specialties."

Not Corresponding.

"Have you a letter from your last mistress?"

"No, mum; we parted good friends, but we ain't been carryin' on no correspondence."

Guess Who.

Friend—I've seen a tall man going to your studio every day for a week. Is he sitting for you?

Impetuous Artist—No, he's laying for me.

Epithetically Described.

Agent—This is a beautifully arranged apartment and we are asking $400 a month for it.

Miss Gush—Oh, the dear suite thing!

Ouch!

He (thoughtfully)—No woman is going to make a fool of me.

She (sweetly)—No woman care to do superfluous things.

Tier of Seats.

"Those bugs seem interested in my typewriter machine."

"Guess they think they have struck a grand stand."

Sardines in Stomach Betray Murderer

Mr. & Mrs. Alex Kels. Mrs.

When the burned automobile of Alex Kels, wealthy Lodi (Cal.) cattleman, was found near his home and a charred body was found in it it was believed Kels had been killed by robbers and his car fired. The body was buried, and Kels was mourned by his many friends. But the insurance company knew Kels had eaten sardines just before his "death," and an autopsy showed no sardines in the dead man's body. A quiet police search ended in the arrest of Kels, who confessed he murdered an unidentified man and burned his body so his wife could collect $100,000 insurance. His wife, an expectant mother, has not been told her husband is alive.

PRINT THIS ABOUT Joint-Ease Says Druggist

"Joint-Ease" is selling like hot cakes in my store, because it is a wonderful and speedy remedy for all joint troubles.

"But why not impress on tens of thousands of suffering people some of the things that dozens of my customers tell me almost daily."

"Some say that it knocks out lumbago over night—others assert that for chest colds and sore throat it has no equal, while many insist that there is nothing they ever tried that is so efficient for neuralgia, neuritis and even head colds and nasal catarrh."

Answering the above letter we, the makers of Joint-Ease, know that this thriving New Jersey druggist says is true, but we still maintain that Joint-Ease is prepared for stiff, inflamed, painful, swollen joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, fingers or spine.

You'll like to use stainless Joint-Ease for with just one minute's rubbing, it soaks in through the flesh directly to the aching bones and ligaments—that's why it succeeds for when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out and without any waste of time all swelling and congestion disappears.

CITY BRIEFS

Missionary Society

An interesting session of the Missionary society of the Christian church was held Wednesday evening at the church with a large attendance. The program related to the Negro race and the work being done for it at home and abroad. A chart was used to illustrate the program.

Two southern songs were sung, one by Mrs. W. A. Leatherberry and Mrs. J. E. Rentz and one by Mrs. Cora Irene Schwartz. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Form Partnership

Announcement was made Thursday of the formation of a business partnership between F. Wiggers and George Russell, Wiggers having purchased half interest in the lunch and bus station, in Ellsworth ave.

The room will be enlarged and improved.

Preparatory Service

A preparatory service in anticipation of the communion service Sunday will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Presbyterian church. The pastor of the Sebring church will be in charge.

Auxiliary To Meet

Gold Star Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold an important business meeting Thursday night at the post rooms.

A MULTITUDE OF WOMEN RECOMMEND IT

The strongest recommendation possible for any medicine to have is the sound testimony borne by the multitudes of women who have used it. It has been proved that 98 out of every 100 women once ill with ailments that caused suffering and despair have been restored to the joys of health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This marvelous record shows its power over the ills of women, and the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper should induce every ailing woman to try it.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the public for helping me by contributing $106 to the budget fund of the St. John's A. M. E. church.

Troops Transported By Airplane In Maneuvers

Moving troops by airplane

For the first time in history troops have been transported by airplane from one part of a battlefield for emergency use in another. The latest method of troop movement was introduced by the United States Marine Corps maneuvers in Virginia, when huge Martin bombers carried the men, their arms and equipment to a section of the battlefield where the "enemy" was about to break through.

APPLY SULPHUR TO HEAL UP YOUR SKIN

For unsightly skin eruptions, rash or blotches on face, neck, arms or body, you do not have to wait for relief from torture or embarrassment, declares a noted skin specialist. Apply a little Menthio-Sulphur and improvement shows next day.

Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation. The moment you apply it healing begins. Only those who have had unsightly skin troubles can know the delight this Menthio-Sulphur brings. Even fiery, itching eczema is dried right up. Get a small jar of Rowles Menthio-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

"Your Friend And Mine"

Willard Mack's play, "Your Friend and Mine," in which the celebrated actor-author has been seen in many theaters throughout the country, has been done as a motion picture by Metro. The photoplay is scheduled for presentation here Thursday, Friday and Saturday at High school auditorium. Advance reports concerning it are extremely fine, especial emphasis being placed on the elaborateness with which the picture has been produced.

"Your Friend and Mine" tells of a neglected wife, her husband too busy with his business interests; a bogus artist, in love with the wife, sharing the husband's utmost confidence; a playwright, sensing danger, contrives to bring about a situation which will reveal the artist's real intentions and draw the mask from the husband's eyes. The conflict of these personalities brings about action that is at all times brisk and dramatic.

Loud Speaker May Be Cheaply Made

Thin Pieces of Cigar Box or Cardboard Suitable for Construction.

That wireless sets are something more than a pleasure is demonstrated by the fact that the majority of "fans" refrain from purchasing parts that they might make themselves. In this way saving an attractive sum. A radio set, whether it be for receiving or transmitting, is an expense, for each month "B" bats, bulbs or other necessities must be purchased and the young fellow, as well as his older brothers, often finds that his weekly allowance is quickly eaten up by the purchase of such necessities. For this reason, hints on how to make useful parts for our outfits, at a hardly noticeable expense, are bound to be appreciated.

A loud speaker is cherished by all interested in this fascinating science, but since the majority of them are rather costly, many individuals either have home-made ones or none at all. Here is a loud speaker that can be made by any size boy and one that will give very excellent results. About 20 cents is the total cost.

From the accompanying drawing, the reader will be able to see just how the horn is constructed. All sides are made of either cardboard or very thin wood. Cigar boxes will come in handy for this, but in case such are not available, cardboard should be used. It is both cheap and will give good service. In cutting out the two side pieces, care should be exercised in getting a gradual flare, particularly toward the "phone receptacle." Before cutting, it will be well to notice the dimensions at various points. If such are followed, a neat shape is sure to result. It is recommended that they be "taped out" on paper first. The sides can then be actually cut from the pattern obtained. It will be seen that pieces of wood, one-half inch wide by one-eighth inch thick, are employed to hold the tops and sides together. There are four strips used. They should be of white pine and soaked in hot water so as to allow easy bending. While still warm, they should be securely fastened to all sides, by means of carpet tacks, which will be found strong enough for the purpose intended. The "phone receptacle" can be made of the same material and care should be exercised to see that the horn is securely fastened in some way to the receiver holder. The "box" should be just large enough to hold the "phone."

After being assembled, the speaker may, if an exceptionally pleasing appearance is desired, be painted thin white, and arranged to look as if it were a grille over the front opening. Thin silk gauze or muslin must be placed over the inner side. If this is done, the exterior appearance of the horn is greatly improved. It is a novel scheme to try, interferes in no way with the efficiency of the horn and will be noticed by everyone who sees your set. A grille will also conceal the interior construction details of the affair.

When the horn is completed, the sides, top and bottom, as well as the "phone receptacle," can be covered with an imitation leatherette or may be stained or varnished, as the builder desires. The horn can easily be built by anyone and will certainly prove a valuable adjunct to any receiving outfit. It is the first loud speaker to incorporate a grille—that is, a loud speaker of this type.

Crystal Set Tuners and Simple Mounting

The tuner for this crystal set is wound spider-web style with Number 26 dec. wire. The insulation is scraped off on one section as shown. An arm made of a piece of flat stock about 1/4 inch wide and 1 1/2 inches long is used for the slider. A fountain-pen clip ball is attached for sliding over the wires.

This 6-inch spider web can be mounted flat on a small board by putting a screw in the center of the coil and a thick washer under the coil to keep it up from the board.

Wonder Horses Meet For $100,000 Purse

"Papyrus" Steve Donoghue and Zev with Earl Sande up.

Papyrus, Ben Irish's winner of the last English derby, and Zev, Harry F. Simel's marvelous three-year-old, selected as the best horses in England and America, will meet in a special international race, at one and one-half miles, at Belmont park, L. I., on Oct. 29, for a purse of $100,000, offered by the Jockey Club of America, and a gold plate. The winner will take $80,000. Steve Donoghue, the best jockey in England, will have the leg on Papyrus, while Earl Sande, premier American jockey, will pilot Zev. Zev was selected only after Admiral Cary T. Grayson, owner of the splendid My Own, had refused to enter his horse in a match race against Zev unless the distance was a mile and a half—the distance in the international. Sam Hildreth, trainer of Zev, which cast a frog in the track, refused to race the horse more than a mile and a furlong at the present time.

Pay for Fuel - as you use it!

ALL day and all night the furnace burns on, consuming fuel to furnish heat for your home. Think of the saving if you could turn the heat on and off as you do the electric lights.

With the Ray-Glo this is possible. It is always ready to furnish heat the moment it is lighted.

There is no waste. The Ray-Glo gives the exact warmth you want—no more, no less.

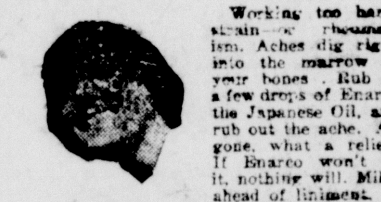

With the Ray-Glo you will notice a marked savings in your heating charge. We will be glad to demonstrate the Ray-Glo heater to you.

Heat when you want it—where you want it—at a lower cost.

"Suffered Rheumatic Torture for Years"

NOW RESTORED TO PERFECT HEALTH

Read What J. C. Jones, of Winchester, Ky., Has to Say About ALLENRHU, The Sure Conqueror of Rheumatism.

"For years I was a sufferer from the torture of rheumatism. My limbs (feet and hands) would swell to almost double their normal size. I suffered intense pain day and night so that I could hardly eat or sleep. I had very little hope of ever recovering from this most dreadful and painful disease. A friend of mine seeing how despondent I was over my hopeless condition advised me to try ALLENRHU. I went immediately to the George Drug Company in Winchester and got a bottle of the internal treatment and a bottle of the Liniment to use externally. For the sake of other sufferers, I wish to say that the results were simply marvelous. After beginning the combined treatment the swelling began to reduce and the pain left me entirely. I continued the treatment until I had taken only two bottles which effected a complete cure. Today I positively feel better than ever before in my life. I feel that I am very fortunate in finding a remedy that has relieved me of the distress and the almost unbearable pains from which I suffered. For the past five weeks I have been working 12 hours a day and haven't even a symptom of rheumatism or ache or pain." Signed, James C. Jones.

ALLENRHU has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished even in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitious and where the patient was helpless. You are sure to get it at all druggists.

More Evidence Given By Mrs. Agnes Miller

"Since taking Tanlac I feel strong, healthy and happy just like my friends all say I look," said Mrs. Agnes Miller, 2584 East 50th st., Cleveland, Ohio.

"Before I got Tanlac my entire system was badly run down. If I ventured on a shopping trip or at any other exertion I soon found myself all fagged out and would have to lie down and rest. My appetite had lost its usual keenness and I had headaches and dizzy spells and after meals I suffered from gas on my stomach and shortness of breath.

"But those troubles vanished quickly when I started taking Tanlac. I've gained ten pounds in weight and am so healthy I just feel like singing at my housework. My nerves are strong, sleep well and have plenty of energy. I can't say enough for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

Railroad Dividends -and Taxes

LAST year the Pennsylvania Railroad System paid out more in taxes than in dividends. Out of every dollar received 4.38 cents was paid in taxes, while only 4.34 cents was paid in dividends.

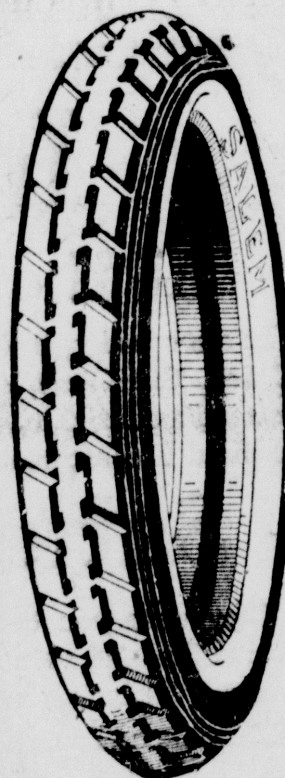

In the year 1913 the total dividends paid to railroad stockholders were about two and a half times the total railroad taxes. In the year 1922 the taxes paid were 11 per cent greater than the aggregate dividends.

The cash dividends paid in 1913 totaled $322,300,406 and the taxes $127,725,809. Dividends in 1922 totaled $271,576,000 and taxes $301,003,227. In the ten-year period, 1913 to 1922, therefore, taxes increased about 135 per cent while dividends decreased about 16 per cent.

The increase in taxes is due in part to an increase of approximately five billion dollars in the property investment of the railroads between 1913 and 1922. But, while the total investment and value of railroad property devoted to public service during this period has increased about 33 per cent, and taxes upon the property 135 per cent, the total compensation to railway stockholders has decreased 16 per cent.

Things to Know About Our Service

One Way to Reduce Light Bills

While the increase that your electric bill may show this month is due principally to the lengthened period of darkness at this season, much light that could be saved is wasted unintentionally.

Dust and dirt on lamps, shades and reflectors, absorb 40% of the light you pay for!

Housewives! Now at Fall cleaning time—clean and polish with a dry cloth every electric lamp ("bulb") in the house. Wash glass shades with soap and water. Clean silk shades with the suction attachment on your vacuum cleaner, then brighten the colors with gasoline. Replace all burned out lamps with new lamps and put your lighting equipment in good condition all around.

Do this—and you'll stop waste of light through dust and dirt, and be able to save on the amount of electricity consumed.

PRESIDENT WRITES HIS OWN SPEECHES

THIS IS TRUE NOW, AND IT HAS ALWAYS BEEN THE CASE IN THE PAST.

REPORTS, OF COURSE, AID HIM

Even His Annual Messages Are Edited by the Chief Executive, Though Much of the Material Is Supplied by Others.

By EDWARD B. CLARK
Washington.—A not infrequent question in Washington is "Who writes the President's speeches?" This question in a way is what one might call a slam at the President of the United States. The question is not asked today with any more frequency than it was asked in the past, for seemingly a multitude of people believe that no President of the United States writes his speeches.

The answer to the question is: "The President writes his speeches."

Now, some one may take exception to this answer by saying that it is not wholly true. Of course no President of the United States writes everything that appears in his addresses, for much of the material used is taken bodily from reports or from books of statistics and is used merely to illustrate or bear out the statements made in the addresses by the man who delivers them.

The annual message to the congress is written, of course, only in part by the President, but he edits every line of it and nothing gets into it of which he does not approve. Messages to congress deal largely with departmental matters and the President is dependent upon his cabinet for information. He takes the matter which they give him and weaves it into his message. He does exactly what any other writer on a serious subject does. He gets material from whatever trustworthy source is available and uses it for the information of his readers.

His Style Too Well Known.
No President of the United States could afford to allow his general addresses to be written by another person. The United States never has had a president whose style of writing was not known to many people before he entered office. If he should depend upon others to give rhetorical flourishes to his addresses the fact would be discovered instantly. It is just as hard to counterfeit a style as it is to counterfeit anything else. No two men ever lived who wrote alike.

It would be a difficult task for anyone to imitate the writing style of Grover Cleveland. Theodore Roosevelt or Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Cleveland was picturesquely ponderous, Colonel Roosevelt was picturesquely rugged, and Mr. Wilson was severely classical. Any attempt of a supposed writer to fool the people with Cleveland, Roosevelt or Wilson matter would have met with disclosure instantly and the same thing in a general way can be said so far as the subject concerns other Presidents.

It is true that sometimes phrases are attributed to the coinage of this President or that President when the fact is they had nothing to do with their coinage. A little study of the thing will show that the attributed matter never appeared in the writings or the addresses of any President.

Origin of Famous Saying.
Take, for instance, the famous saying "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead" which generally has been accredited to Theodore Roosevelt. This expression was used at the time that a United States consular agent had been kidnapped by a North African chieftain and the United States was determined to rescue the official even if they had to kill the man responsible for his abduction.

Two months ago there died in Washington a newspaper correspondent who had worked in the capital for many years. His name was Edwin Hood. He was the man responsible for "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead." The intention of the administration—Roosevelt was then president—was told to him and instantly he crystallized it into the expression which is heard frequently today when the United States intends to act with determination along punitive lines.

Presidents of the United States are compelled to depend upon others for the gathering of much of the material for their speeches. The fact that this material is gathered by this man or that man occasionally moves people to think mistakenly that this man or that man writes the resulting address. Benjamin Harrison, when he was President, made a great many short speeches from the rear platform of the train upon which he once was traveling. These speeches always have been regarded as models of terse English, and in addition as speeches which were full of meat. They have been preserved in book form and are read today by lovers of good English. Harrison wrote them.

Century of Long Trousers.
This year marks the hundredth anniversary of the official adoption of long trousers as the male garment. Although Beau Brummel had worn them half a dozen years before, and they had become an accepted "fashion" in 1821, it was in 1823 that they received official sanction, replacing breeches and leggings in the British infantry. The Irish had worn a sort of trousers in the Seventeenth century, but they bore but little resemblance to the modern garment. Even Beau Brummel's trousers would be counted a curiosity today, for they buttoned at the ankle. Yet they undoubtedly are the garment from which the modern "long pants" has been evolved.

Modern Living Driving People Mad Is Charge

Hospitals Overflowing As Civilization Speeds Up, Asserts Doctor.

Massillon, Oct. 11.—Civilization is "literally driving people mad,"

Dodging street cars, sidestepping automobiles and eating rich foods are modern contributors to an increasing percentage of insanity, Dr. A. G. Hyde for ten years superintendent of Massillon State hospital, said today. "Each year there is a larger number of patients admitted to the hospital," Dr. Hyde said. "We are 400 over normal capacity now, and more are being admitted daily. There is no doubt that the speed with which the world is living is responsible in part."

Infected teeth often cause insanity, he said, and bad teeth—due to eating rich foods—are more prevalent today than ever before. For that reason a dental clinic is maintained at the hospital. As soon as a patient is admitted his teeth are examined, and suspicious molars and bicusps are extracted.

Tonsils are next examined. Bad tonsils cause insanity in many cases, Dr. Hyde said, and in all cases where the tonsils are found to be diseased they are removed.

"The study of insanity is a matter of elimination," he asserted. "We correct all physical ills so far as possible and in a majority of cases an improved mental condition results."

In fact, mental disease is now viewed in the same light as physical disease. More men go insane than women, but men are more easily cured, Dr. Hyde said. Women patients cause more trouble than male patients.

The proportion of male to female insane is now about three to two, he estimated.

"Fear or sudden shock may cause insanity, but unless there is something in the brain that is not just right the mind will not snap," Dr. Hyde said. "The same is true of disease. There are many diseases that cause insanity, but if the person is free from hereditary taint of insanity and has a strong, healthy mind in most cases the disease will not affect the mind."

"The rush of life in the larger cities is responsible for much of the insanity, and that is why when a city grows rapidly and people begin living faster we have more insane from that city."

Keeping the patients cheerful is one of the big things in treatment of the mentally diseased, he said, and
